

Kevin Croft

As an associate in the firm's litigation group, Kevin brings a broad range of experience to client matters. His trial experience combined with his skills as a Certified Public Accountant are valuable in cases involving breach of contract, eminent domain, construction defect and many other construction-related claims. Kevin also works with his clients during the pre-construction phase to review contracts and clarify local ordinances to avoid issues that may arise during construction. His clients include individual contractors, large construction companies, surety firms and outdoor advertising companies. In addition to his work in the construction industry, Kevin also works with clients on insurance litigation matters as well as tax disputes and litigation.

Kevin is a graduate of Mississippi College School of Law, J.D. where he served as Law Review, Executive Editor; Millsaps College Else School of Management, Master of Accountancy; University of Mississippi, Oxford, Mississippi, B.A. He is licensed to practice law in Mississippi, U.S. District Court Northern District of Mississippi, U.S. District Court Southern District of Mississippi, and U.S. Court of Appeals 5th Circuit. He is a member of various professional organizations including: Mississippi Bar Association; American Bar Association; American Institute of Certified Public Accountants; Mississippi Society of Certified Public Accountants; Capitol Area Bar Association; Defense Research Institute, Construction Law Committee; MSCPA, Business Valuation and Litigation Support Committee; Associated Builders and Contractors of Mississippi; American Bar Association, Forum on the Construction Industry; and Charles Clark American Inns of Court. Kevin has recently been selected as a 2010 Rising Star by Mid-South Super Lawyers in the category of Construction/Surety.
