

Larry Clark

Larry has extensive experience in representing, working in and dealing with governmental entities during his thirty-five years of practice, including thirteen years in the Mississippi Attorney General's office under former Attorney General Mike Moore. As Deputy Attorney General he supervised 70 attorneys representing some 25 divisions, sections and state agencies and also headed the Local Government and Opinions Division of the office. Agencies he personally represented during his tenure with the Attorney General include the State Auditor, State Ethics Commission and the State Health Care Trust Fund Board. Larry has provided knowledge, experience and a wide range of contacts in state government to assist with many projects handled by the Firm, including The Nissan automotive and SeverCorr steel plant projects as well as many local government finance transactions. He has in-depth experience in Contract Review for state agencies from his time with the Attorney General's office and since joining the firm.

Prior to joining the Attorney General he practiced municipal and school law, having represented municipal boards and the Smith County School Board. On behalf of the Smith County School District he filed and conducted the litigation of the cases of Tally vs. Board of Supervisors and Tally v. Carter, which set the standard of care required of public officials managing Sixteenth Section school trust lands.

He is a graduate of Millsaps College (B. A. 1969) and the University of Mississippi (J.D. 1972) and has been with the Firm since 2000.
